Sensors

Introduction

Here some informations about various sensor-types and how to connect them to a midibox.

Keep in mind that most of sensors are analog , so they require an AINSER Module to be plugged as inputs to the Core Board.

Sensor-Wiki maintains a free list of possible sensors you could experiment with . For example the picture on the right is a EEG Active Electrode from the OpenEEG Project. A mind-controlled midibox ? who said that ?

- http://www.sensorwiki.org/doku.php/sensors/introduction
- Wikipedia page on sensors
- Open EEG Project

If you're interested in working with sensors, you might also want to check out the ACSensorizer-Midibox project.

Forum Topics

- How to connect Non-10k Resistance-based Sensors
- Experimental controllers-sensors-ribbons
- About Distance Sensors
- AdaFruit touch Sensor
- Distance Sensor
- Another Sharp Infrared Distance Sensor
- Polyphonic Touch sensors
- AC Sensorizer Glove

From:
https://midibox.org/dokuwiki/ - MIDIbox

Permanent link:
https://midibox.org/dokuwiki/doku.php?id=sensors&rev=1465976416

Last update: 2016/06/15 07:40